Rogers, AR – Managing and directing growth for a community or campus is critical. To meet the growing need to spend construction dollars wisely, Crafton Tull Sparks has established a planning department.

Dave Roberts, ASLA, will spearhead the group as vice president of planning. Dave has a bachelor's degree in landscape architecture from the University of Arkansas. He is a member of the Arkansas State Board of Landscape Architects, the University of Arkansas School of Architecture Advisory Board, and has served as President of the American Society of Landscape Architects Arkansas Chapter. During his 19 years of experience, he has worked on several award winning and LEED® projects.

“We take a holistic approach to planning a future development,” said Dave Roberts, vice president of planning. “A master plan should not only help locate future facilities, but also provide strategic direction for the client. These strategies outline design standards and implementation strategies in phases.”

Crafton Tull Sparks has 335 employees with offices in Conway, AR, Little Rock, AR, Oklahoma City, OK, Rogers, AR, Russellville, AR, Tulsa, OK and Wichita, KS. Founded in 1963, they provide architectural, engineering, interior design, landscape architecture, surveying and planning services across the nation.
