

Crafton Tull Sparks

architecture | engineering

Conway
Little Rock
Oklahoma City
Rogers
Russellville
Tulsa
Wichita

For Immediate Release:

Crafton Tull Sparks
Climbs to 60 LEED AP

Rogers, AR – Thirteen staff members of Crafton Tull Sparks have received LEED® accreditation, bringing the company's total to 60 employees who are knowledgeable in sustainable design practices. The firm's sustainability expertise spans a variety of disciplines and offices including these newest LEED accredited professionals:

In Rogers office: Daniel Ellis, P.E., CPESC

In Russellville office: Greg Barborek, AIA; Bart Mink, P.E.; Ira Wimer, AIA

In Tulsa office: Stephen Burgin; Yvonne Elias, AIA; Kelley Head, ASID, IIDA; Tieng Ling, P.E.; Danny Little; Tracy Mann; Katie Vesely, Associate AIA; Carolyn Westbrook

In Little Rock office: Brad Peterson, P.E.

"Becoming experts in sustainable building practices is a priority for the company," said Matt Crafton, Corporate Director of Engineering. "In offering study resources, guidance and mentors to our staff, we expect the knowledge-base to continue across the company allowing allow us to better serve our clients."

LEED, Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design, is the standard for design and construction of green buildings. The LEED accreditation test is administered by the U.S. Green Building Council.

Crafton Tull Sparks has 300 employees with offices in Conway, AR, Little Rock, AR, Oklahoma City, OK, Rogers, AR, Russellville, AR, Tulsa, OK and Wichita, KS. Founded in 1963, they provide planning, architectural, engineering, interior design, landscape architecture and surveying services across the nation.

Shelley Bowersock, Manager Marketing/PR
Crafton Tull Sparks
918-588-4026 / shelly.bowersock@craftontullsparks.com